FOUND DEAD IN VAULT AFTER FIRE

Firemen of Alberni Discover Body of City Clerk M. M. Stephens With Bullet Hole in Forehead

CITY HALL BUILDING REDUCED TO ASHES

Audit Was in Progress of Municipal Books of Which Little Can Be Salvaged—Inquest Today

PORT ALBERNI, April 23.—The body of City Clerk M. M. Stephens, with a bullet hole in the head, was found early this morning on the floor of the vault of the Alberni Municipal Hall, among the ruins left by a fire which had reduced the hall itself to ashes.

The body was discovered by firemen who, called by an alarm at 4 o'clock, had found the building a mass of flames which they were unable to check before it was burned to the ground, with only the vault left standing.

The Provincial Police were immediately notified and Dr. Morgan, the coroner, called in by them. An investigation was begun by the police under Sergeant Wood, of the local detachment, who were aided by Corporal McBain, of Victoria, and Constable Russell, of Nanaimo, who arrived about 10 o'clock.

BOOKS MISSING

A thorough search of the ruins have been made to try and find any books possible to salvage. It is discovered that considerable damage has been done to the books in the vault and the 1929 ledger is missing. The assessment roll for 1928 was Continued on Page 2, Column 3

World Bank Is Opening Operations

BASEL, Switzerland, April 23.—The directorate of the new Bank of International Settlements, organized under the Young plan to handle reparations and other matters of international banking, completed its plans of immediate operation, organization and personnel at a forenoon session today.

All preliminary work was considered definite but will be adopted formally again when the Young plan is adopted by Great Britain, and Italy fulfills all the requirements for actual commencement of operations of the bank.

It was decided to issue stock at par eight days after these negotiations are secured. Reparations bonds totalling $300,000,000 will bear 6 per cent interest, as was understood previously but details of this transaction have not been completed.

Jim the Conqueror Starts Tomorrow In The Colonist

A TALE involving a sheep and cattle war, a gallant ranch owner and a clever and beautiful New York girl is told in "Jim the Conqueror," a swift-moving novel by Peter B. Kyne, which will start in tomorrow's Colonist. It is an exciting new story of the Texas range, and Crooked Bill, one of its principal characters, will be found as irresistible as Kyne's immortal Cappy Ricks.

TURBULENCE IN INDIA IS ON INCREASE

Greater Degree of Gloom Noticeable Among Europeans Because of Serious Reports

BRITISH SOLDIER KILLED IN CLASH

(Canadian Press Cable)

BOMBAY, India, April 23.—A British soldier was slain today in Peshawar of the Pathans, capital of the Northwest Provinces—slain by a native knife when a number of arrests were being made among the ranks of the civil disobedience campaigners. Advice from Peshawar, which is not far from the Afghan frontier, tell of many disorders which were accompanied by a sudden cessation of work throughout the city.

FEELING OF GLOOM

The reaction throughout the Europeans of India to news of the Peshawar trouble has been a greater degree of gloom than has been felt since the start of the Gandhi movement. The Northwest Provinces had seemed to be fairly tranquil; the Swaraj strength was believed to centre largely in and around Bombay and Calcutta and a few others of the coastal centres. Trouble in the north is always ominous, for the men of the north are of far different temperament than the Bombay people and the Bengalees.

At Calcutta Professor Jaykumar, prominent in the Swaraj movement, and twenty-nine other persons were arrested while plotting shops. Nationalists attempted to break the police cordons during the arrests and attacked the prison van which carried the prisoners to court. It is said that V. J. Patel, Speaker of the Indian Legislative Assembly, has decided to resign his position in protest against the Government's handling of the situation generally.

STILL HUNT RAIDERS

The military authorities are prosecuting the hunt of the raiders of the Chittagong arsenal, where six defenders were slain, with all the resources of the Government.

OTTAWA THINKS DISCOVERY WAS OF NEW PLANET

Old Plates Show Heavenly Body Now Known and Efforts Being Made to Find Source

MAY BE ANOTHER OF SPACE'S WANDERERS

OTTAWA, April 23.—Investigation of photographic plates of the heavens taken at the Dominion observatory here in 1924 has disclosed the fact that either a planet or comet unknown to astronomers was discovered then, or record was made of the Planet X, the discovery of which was made by the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Arizona, a short time ago. Both Dr. Meldrum Stewart, the observatory director, and Dr. F. Henricus, who made the photographs, inclined toward the theory that the object is the Planet X.

SEARCHED OLD PLATES

When the announcement was made from the Lowell Observatory that a ninth planet had been discovered, Dr. Stewart and his assistants began a systematic search of old photographic plates. From the preliminary orbit of the planet computed by the Lowell Observatory, it was decided about where the planet would have been in past years. An investigation of two plates taken in February, 1924, has revealed the presence of an object which the Canadian astronomers believe is the newly-discovered but nameless planet.

Asked why it was that the presence of the Transneptunian object was not discovered earlier, Dr. Stewart said that the object was too faint to be seen with the instruments then in use.

PEOPLE DRIVEN TO EAT SEED TO GROW

BY REGINALD SWEETLAND (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)
SHANGHAI, China, April 23.—Girls and women, formerly selling for $300 each, now fetch only $200 in Shanghai, while the Government there exacts a tax of $10 on each female leaving the province through purchase, owing to the surplus on the market due to famine, according to Mr. F. S. Russell, English Baptist Mission secretary, engaged in Shanghai famine relief. Mr. Russell arrived here today, bringing details from the Shanghai famine area.

LAD IS DROWNED

SHANGHAI, B.C., April 23.—While fishing in the Fraser River this forenoon, John Ross Eagles, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eagles, lost his balance, fell into the water and was drowned.

FEAR JAPANESE SAILORS ARE IN HANDS OF PIRATES

TOKIO, April 23.—The Japanese destroyer Ume searched the South China coast today for thirty Japanese sailors whose ship, the Kamyoshi Maru, was pirated Sunday or Monday. Whether the sailors were captured by the pirates or escaped in lifeboats was not known.

Prepare Bill to Consolidate All C.N. Companies

OTTAWA, Ont., April 23.—The reconstruction of the financial structure of the Canadian National Railways will be started this session of Parliament with the passage of a bill to amalgamate into one corporate body all the various companies which now make up the C.N.R. Intimation to this effect came from the Department of Railways and Canals today. It is not expected, however, that the further steps of consolidating the various bond issues and otherwise reorganizing the whole financial structure will be proceeded with this year.

BIG DEATH TOLL

PARIS, April 23.—France experienced possibly the worst week-end automobile casualty list over Easter in the history of motor vehicles. Thirty-six persons were killed and 172 injured in widespread accidents.

Prison Officials Might Have Saved Prisoners' Lives

Sensational Charges Laid Against Authorities of Ohio State Penitentiary—Lack of Consideration for Human Life Alleged—No Fire Precautions Taken and Alarm Delayed

Another Scare Raised as Convicts Are Restless

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 23.—Sensational charges that prison officials could have saved all of the 318 prisoners who died in the Ohio penitentiary fire on Monday, and an admission from Warden Preston E. Thomas that no general fire precautions are taken at the institution, were read into the record of the board of inquiry today. Charges that the prison officers were lax in their consideration of the value of human life were made by Mr. A. E. Nice, Columbus fire chief. The warden blamed the State for overcrowding the prison to almost twice its capacity.

PRESIDENT MAXTON BREAKS INTO TEARS

BIRMINGHAM, England, April 23.—Singing of "Auld Lang Syne," rather than the "Red Flag," or any other Socialist song, and the passage of a warm vote of thanks to Mr. James Maxton, their leader, marked the concluding meeting today of the Independent Labor Party conference.

Two Flyers Meet Death From Crash

ATTICA, N.Y., April 23.—Three men, one of them a leader in aviation circles, met death as their airplane crashed against a hill in a blinding snowstorm here today. The dead: Captain Lionel M. Woolson, aeronautical engineer of the Packard Motor Car Company, of Detroit, and designer of the Packard Diesel airplane motor; Charles S. Knight, a test pilot for the Verville Company, of Detroit, manufacturers of the plane which crashed and which was equipped with one of the new Diesel motors, and Harold B. Scott, Douglastown, N.Y., a pilot.

NORTHERNER TO LOCATE ROUTE ACROSS DIVIDE

Col. Cornwall to Make Reconnaissance Between Arctic and Pacific Watersheds in Fall

DESCRIBES DETAIL OF 400-MILE HIKE

"The trail which we will locate this fall across that section of the North Country between the Arctic and the Pacific watersheds will be built and dedicated to the service of the northern prospector," Col. J. K. Cornwall, who is enjoying a brief holiday in Victoria, told a representative of The Colonist at his home yesterday.

"It is purely in the interest of the mineral-minded men who are gradually working from the Yukon Basin eastward towards the great unexplored regions lying adjacent to Great Bear Lake, that the Federal Government is undertaking this very essential and epoch-making step. There is no political significance in the location of this trail, nor will it be the precursor of an automobile road into the Yukon in our time. It is being constructed solely for the purpose of opening up a country of great possibilities," Continued on Page 4, Column 5

TENDERS ARE AWARDED FOR ROAD SECTIONS

Public Works Department
Lets Contracts for Important Highway Improvements

ON TRUNK ROADS EAST OF VANCOUVER

The awards have been made by the Department of Public Works with regard to tenders submitted for three sections of roads on the Mainland. The General Construction Company as the lowest tenderer has been awarded two of these contracts, while the third went to the Westminster Construction Company.

The latter is the section of the Dewdney trunk road from Hunter Road to Kanaka Creek. The tender for this work by the Westminster Construction Company was $48,750.
While in the totality of the amounts at the time of the opening of the tenders showed that the General Construction Company was the lowest of the eight bids, a mistake was found to have been made, and the tender for $37,975 which was submitted by the company was asked to be withdrawn. The Westminster Company was the next lowest.

The other contracts let included the Silverdale Mission section of the Dewdney trunk road. The General Construction Company, which was the successful tenderer for this, was awarded the work on a bid of $122,850.

The other one, which went to the same company, was for the section of road between Aberdeen Road and Aldergrove, on the Yale Road. The tender was for $24,755.

All these undertakings will be completed under the arrangements by September.

BRAVE RESCUER LOSES HIS LIFE

Two Teachers Drowned, One in Trying to Save Life of Friend in Boiling Current

NORTH VANCOUVER, April 23.—
Mr. J. A. Hyndman and Mr. F. E.
Lothian, Vancouver teachers in Carleton Place, Ontario, were killed in Lynn Creek today while on a mountain hike with eighteen girls pupils.

Mr. Lothian sacrificed his life in a gallant attempt to save his friend.
Miss Irene Elliott, fifteen, undaunted by the boiling current, or the fear of the two teachers being swept away, plucked them into the water and tried to rescue Mr.
Lothian.

When only a few yards from the brink of the falls she realized her attempt must prove futile and grasped the branch of a tree, then dragged herself ashore.

The party had reached second canyon and Mr. Lothian safely crossed the large log that serves as a bridge, when Mr. Hyndman lost his balance halfway across and fell into the current.

Without hesitation Mr. Lothian plunged into the swollen creek but failed to reach his friend before both were swept over the falls and perished.

The two teachers had descended into the canyon endeavoring to find a safe crossing for their pupils.
Only Miss Elliott witnessed the tragedy.

Only Mr. Lothian's body has been recovered so far.

STUDY MARKET IN ANTIPODES FOR GRASS SEED

Correspondence has passed between the markets section of the Department of Agriculture of this province and the seed trade in Australia and New Zealand, looking to the development of business with the producers of grass seed in British Columbia. The replies which have been received indicate that there is the opportunity of doing considerable business, especially with New Zealand. In the case of Australia the demand in many instances would appear to be in many cases for varieties of grass which are not specialized in British Columbia.

A variety of clover, called subteranean clover, which has been found valuable in Australia, will be tested out in British Columbia, it is expected, and some seed will be sent for with the idea of testing it out here. This clover would appear to be used somewhat as alfalfa.

Communists Busy In China Making Numerous Raids

TIENTSIN, China, April 23.—Example of the growing influence of Communists in this area was seen here today in raids of men, women and children on the tree farms of the Kaifeng Company, in the Tongshan coal fields.

The raiders chopped down the trees and carried them off. A local committee of Communists addressed the police and military, calling them comrades and urging them to disobey the orders of their officers, start a revolution and form a Soviet.
The police were passive toward the raiders.

COURT TO GIVE VERDICT LATER

EVIDENCE AND ARGUMENT
CONCLUDE IN SUIT OVER
WHEAT SPECULATION

Mr. Justice Murphy reserves judgment in suit of Rev. J. S. Patterson for Damages

Judgment was reserved by Mr.
Justice Murphy in the Supreme Court yesterday, at the conclusion of evidence and argument in the action for damages brought by Rev.
J. S. Patterson against Branson,
Brown & Co., Limited. Messrs.
Hamilton Read and F. C. Elliott appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. H.
A. Maclean, K.C., for the defendant.

Continuing his evidence, Mr. Patterson said that he had been informed by Mr. Blyth that he had talked with Mr. Patterson on the telephone in the evening of May 7 and that Mr. Patterson had said that he would come to the office in the morning and protect his margin. On May 8, the Winnipeg exchange had opened for business at 6.30 o'clock, Victoria time. He would not deny that at 10 o'clock when Mr. Patterson arrived at the company's office wheat stood at 116.

J. U. Byrne, M. H. Byrne and W.
C. Lythgow testified that they had been at the breakfast table at Mr.
Patterson's residence on the morning of May 7 and that a telephone call for Mr. Patterson had come from the office of Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd., and that Mr. Patterson had gone to the telephone and on returning had indicated to Mr. Patterson that he was an employee of the company, and had said that it "would have to carry him."

Under cross-examination, Lythgow said that he was an employee of Branson, Brown & Co., and had recently been promoted. Replying to Mr. Justice Murphy, Lythgow said that he had been in the office of Branson, Brown & Co., and had recently been promoted. Replying
to Mr. Justice Murphy, Lythgow said that he had been in the office of Branson, Brown & Co., and had recently been promoted.

NEW BLOCK WILL BE CONSTRUCTED

Permit for Building of $45,000
Apartment House at Vancouver Street and Burdett Avenue

Construction of a $45,000 apartment block will take place on the southeast corner of Vancouver Street and Burdett Avenue by the Western Apartments, Limited.

Plans prepared by Mr. Percy Fox, architect, reveal that the building will be of two and one-half storeys, and contain thirteen suites. It will be a frame stucco block of handsome exterior and fitted throughout with the latest modern improvements.

Work has already started at the site, where a large frame dwelling is to be razed to make way for the new building.

A permit to cover the project was issued to the company by City Building Inspector James Barf at the City Hall yesterday. Mr. B. J.
Macnam is the contractor for the project.

The Western Apartments, Limited, is a newly formed company with local capital to carry on apartment house construction, brought to a high state of efficiency by Mr.
Moxam, in association with others.

With the issuance of this permit to the Western Apartments, Limited, the total value of building permits taken out at the City Hall thus far this month is $72,225. The number of permits issued for April is forty-four.

HERE FOR REST

Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Attorney-General of Saskatchewan, has been in Victoria for two days.
Following the session of the Legislature in that prairie province, Mr.
MacPherson took the opportunity to leave Regina and come to the Pacific Coast for a little holiday after a rather strenuous session. The Attorney-General said that he had no other business except that of taking a rest. He was a caller upon the Prime Minister of British Columbia at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon.

He left on the steamer for Seattle yesterday afternoon to pay a visit to Longview, where his sister resides.

SEATTLE GIRL TO TAKE TESTS HERE

A Seattle girl, Miss Florence in recent years.

TO INAUGURATE NEW POLICIES

ARTERIAL HIGHWAYS OF B.C.
WILL BE ANNOUNCED SOON
BY MINISTER

Questions of Bus Line Taxes and Other Features of Late Legislation Will Be Settled

Declaration of arterial highways to be taken over and completely maintained by the Provincial Government, as provided for in the new Highways and Traffic Control Act passed last session, will be made very shortly, stated Hon. N. S.
Lougheed, Minister of Public Works, in Vancouver yesterday.

Mr. P. Philip, the deputy minister, and other officials have already assembled most of the data necessary for making these decisions, he said.

Granting of bus and truck schedule franchisees will also take place shortly, the minister announced. Most of the operators of these services have filed their applications and schedules and the work of departmental approval is now in process.

When all the material is before the Government, Mr. Lougheed said it would be possible to decide what rate of tax is to be imposed on the bus lines. The act provides for a levy not exceeding 1 per cent of the gross revenues. It may not be necessary to impose the maximum, he said.

During the past few days Mr.
Lougheed, in company with his deputy, has visited most of the districts adjacent to Vancouver where road work is to be undertaken this season.

OHIO PRISON TRAGEDY

The United States is a country of big things: big corporations, big buildings, big rivers, big railways (though not the biggest in the world), big mountains (though not the highest in the world), big penitentiaries (absolutely the biggest in the world), and big prison populations (absolutely the biggest in the world). The natural consequence is that when anything happens in the United States, the thing that happens is the biggest in the world. Nothing of such tragic consequences as the fire in the Ohio federal penitentiary ever happened before anywhere in the world.

There were more than four thousand convicts in the Ohio penitentiary when the fire was started (so it is said) by some of the prisoners for the purpose of effecting a general jail delivery during the resulting confusion. The tragedy was a consequence of a too strict devotion to duty upon the part of one of the guards. It was the duty of all the guards to prevent the prisoners from escaping. One of the guards refused to open the door of the corridor communicating with one of the tiers of cells. All the prisoners in that section of the penitentiary were caught like rats in a trap and perished from the combined effects of fire and smoke.

The scheme of the convicts was a complete failure. Not one prisoner escaped; between three and four hundred of them are either dead or dying. Two blunders were responsible for the tragedy—for it was a tragedy although the victims of it were merely convicts, a large number of them murderers. The convicts blundered when they set the building on fire. The guard blundered when, through a mistaken sense of duty, he refused to permit the release of the prisoners.

Probably there were other blunders connected with the deplorable affair. The authorities may have blundered when they immured such a large number of human beings in a structure which appears to have been constructed of inflammable material. The authorities may have blundered when they adopted laws which added so materially to the criminal population that it is impossible to provide suitable accommodation for them. The federal and state penitentiaries are all filled "to the point of saturation" as a result of the enactment of laws that were designed for the purpose of abolishing crime and emptying the prisons.

FACTS ABOUT NAVAL CONFERENCE

What the ultimate results of the naval disarmament conference may be, no one can predict with assurance. They may be productive of permanent peace in a war-weary world, or they may turn out to be like the agreement adopted and signed at a meeting of the League of Nations for the limitation of tariffs. Almost before the ink on the signatures of the representatives of the Powers was dry the governments of several of those Powers either increased their tariffs or began to pay bounties upon exports. The immediate results of the disarmament conference have been the production of bitterness in the relations between Great Britain and France, strain in the relations between France and Italy, increased activity in the naval yards of the United States, and increased activity in the naval yards of Britain. Every nation that has been accomplished might have been better accomplished if every nation had been permitted to attend strictly to its own business and Great Britain had reached an understanding with the United States on the dangerous issue of freedom of the seas.

"A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM"

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." The phrase is somewhat frayed and worn from too frequent use by orators not quite so divinely inspired as the poet, but it will serve for our present purpose. We thought of it a morning or two ago while reading an Associated Press dispatch from London describing the celebration in the Royal Castle of Windsor of the fourth birthday of the Princess Elizabeth. Writers of dispatches for the newspapers, if we believe all readers of the newspapers say, are not gifted in the art of "fine writing."

And that is in a measure true. Press representatives are not selected for their jobs because of their capacity for writing matter stuffed with flights of imagination, sentiment and humor. They are employed to sift the wheat from the chaff of the news and to relate the facts. The dispatch from London which attracted our attention was quite different from the ordinary chronicles of the news. It was so distinctive that the thought occurred to us that it had not appeared in the news columns of The Colonist, the readers of The Colonist might like to read it in another column, and here it is:

A tiny golden-haired girl usurped the British throne without opposition this morning and for a brief spell ruled her native land with charming grace, which brought delighted plaudits from her subjects.

This day belonged to Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, and eldest granddaughter of the King and Queen, or it was the fourth anniversary of her birth. Bright and early little "Lilibet," as she calls herself, with delighted laughter, seized the sceptre beneath which the grey-haired King-Emperor, his Queen and all the royal family owed in pleased submission.

There was a wonderful birthday party in old Windsor Castle, such a party as the fairy books record for children to read all over the world. There were presents galore, including a mysterious package from Uncle David—the Prince of Wales—sent from the heart of the hunting field here His Royal Highness has been on a holiday.

Then there was a well-filled zoo from the Queen, for "Lilibet" is fond of animals, and there was a shiny tricycle from her father and mother, cause princesses ride tricycles just the same as little folks in ordinary walks of life.

Then, too, there was marvellous cake made by the royal chef. It bore Elizabeth's name in icing, had four candles on it and, more than that, had something wonderful concealed within. But only the princess knows what that was. But perhaps best of all was the disclosure of a great secret in the royal stables, that the King had hidden one of the smallest Shetland ponies he could find. That filled the princess' cup to overflowing. She was so delighted that when the party adjourned for a time to the castle grounds she waved excitedly to thousands of people who had collected outside.

So great was the crush that the authorities finally were forced to close the gates against the huge crowd which had gathered to wish the princess many happy returns of the day. The crowd cheered the princess wildly and she smiled and waved back at them.

For one day in the year the King abdicated his throne, the Government, if it did not cease to function, was forgotten, and a little child, the most wonderful of all the works of nature, reigned supreme in the hearts of the people of England. The crowd collected before the gates of the castle, cheered the Princess wildly and she waved back at them. That is a touch of nature which makes all the people of the Empire kin. The event was a family party, but all the people of England attended it even if it was necessary to close the gates against them because of the mass of the throng and by plaudits expressed their sympathy with the spirit of the occasion. There have been great moments and solemn occasions in the history of the present King and Queen. We wonder if any of those great moments and solemn occasions aroused deeper emotions in the hearts of the royal couple than the sound of the cheers of the great multitude for the little grandchild whose natural graces have won so many hearts in so many parts of the world.

An interesting story comes from the Far North, hitherto a new and neglected section of Canada, where the people are marching on to fortune if not to fame. Although the ship has not departed from Hudson's Bay, a small army is at work building a new city on the shores of the northern sea. Although the future of Churchill is largely speculative, it may become a busy port and the centre of a great business. Churchill has a sea teeming with wealth in front of it, a country of unknown resources at the back of it, and the men who go into the remote North are noted for their energy and enterprise.

Well managed private businesses are vigilant in their efforts to prevent impairment of capital. Critics, who may possibly be mere pessimists, say the present Government of Great Britain is paying its expensive way by raids upon capital and that capital is either diminishing or is leaving the country, most of it going to the United States. We trust none of these things are true, but if British capital must seek secure places for investment, why does it not select Canada in preference to such foreign countries as the United States and Argentina?

The ice has departed from the lakes and rivers of Eastern Canada. Ships are beginning to move upon the face of the great inland waters, and thousands of men who have been idle all winter are finding profitable work for their hands to do. Those manifestations are interesting to the people of this part of Canada which is not troubled with the handicap of frozen harbors and comparatively few tied-up ships.

A. J. R.

Draw down no blind; but let the morning light shine on his face who had no thought to hide. And never from the straight path of duty, who, though endowed with more than manly might, fenced easily ever in the keenest fight. Least means' traps the surest, sage the surest, guide; And in debate all friends' and foes' delight.

In silence mourn him—trouble not his sleep—He loved not lamentation; half dictated word. The plaudits of the crowd; content to reap The harvest of his soul; and oft restrained The cries of such a world as he would weep. O'er woes that pass—and with a smile, refrain. —Darling, in The Times, London.

(It was stated that Lord Balfour asked that at his death the blinds should not be drawn down.)

AUSTRALIAN INDUSTRY

(From the commencement of her manufacturing days, the costs of Australian industry have always exceeded the profits.) For many years Nature saved us from feeling any ill-effects. We opened up mines of astonishing riches. Balfour and Bendigo were followed by Charles Towers and Gympie, on the heels of Mt. Morgan and Broken Hill came Mt. Lyell and Kalbarrie. Our vast cheaply worked backcountry gave us the world's finest wools. But when the old mines had been robbed of their richer ores and no new fields were found to replace them, the trouble came to show itself. For quarter of a century we camouflaged it more or less successfully with loans. When they ceased we were faced with the simple fact that for all these years we had been producing far less than we had been consuming.—Sydney Bulletin.

CONVENTIONS IN NANAIMO OPEN FRIDAY

Native Sons and Native Daughters of B.C. Will Hold Annual Grand Lodge Meetings

DELEGATES FROM VICTORIA POSTS

The annual conventions of the Native Sons of British Columbia and the Native Daughters of British Columbia will be held in Nanaimo tomorrow and Saturday, when delegates from the various posts of these two organizations throughout the province will gather at the respective Grand Lodge meetings.

Sessions of the Native Sons of British Columbia parley will take place in the historic Bastion in the Up-Island Centre, with Mr. J. P. Hamilton, Post No. 1, and Mr. C. C. Pemberton, grand factor, presiding. Reports of the past twelve months' activities will be presented, election of 1930-31 officers will be held, and plans for the forthcoming term formulated. The convention city for 1931 will also be decided on.

The meetings of the Native Daughters of British Columbia will take place in the Foresters Hall, Nanaimo, with Mrs. E. Fletcher, of Nanaimo, chief factor of the organization, in the chair. A full agenda of business has been prepared for the convention.

Members of Victoria Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia, will leave the afternoon for the grand lodge sessions at Nanaimo, including Miss K. Wilson, past grand factor; Miss Merle Lorimer, grand guide; Mrs. S. J. Stapleton, past chief factor; and Mrs. E. Fletcher, chief factor, and Miss May McCormick, secretary of the Victoria Post.

The delegates to both the Native Sons and Native Daughters' conventions will be guests at a dinner and dance, which will be held in the Hotel Malaspina on Friday night.

On Saturday night, several posts of the Native Sons of British Columbia will participate in an initiative for the trophy donated by Mr. Bruce A. McKelvie, of Victoria, a past Grand Factor of the order. The Native Daughters of British Columbia will hold a similar competition for the trophy donated by Mr. Harrison Cup, which has been donated by ex-Mayor Victor B. Harrison, of Nanaimo.

A LITTLE MAID

(Beacon Hill)

A little maid on the hillside,
So small she is scarce seen.
But she trundles her fairy wonder-land,
And her path is a field of green;
Below, she has joined her companions
Where myriads bloom combine
To show the land with beauty;
To the varied plant and flower
Beyond, many gulls are soaring
In a blue that meets the sea,
Where the waves are forever sighing
And the winds of Heaven blow free.

So, life in first beginnings
Springs from a source above;
And every little trundle-head
Brings forth a new world.
Then ever their chords renewing
As the strings of life unroll;
Ever His love pursuing
For sorrow or delight or joy.
Hard or smooth their journeying,
Joyous or sad their love, Lined lights still garnering
Some memory from above.

THEY MAY NEVER COME TRUE
They may never come true,
All the things I would do
To make your life joyous and
To make your life joyous and

They may prove but the gleam
Of an over-bright dream,
Instead of a lamp for your feet.
Well I know hopes may wane,
Yet I cannot refrain From this building of castles in

They may never come true,
Yet their towers touch heaven's blue,
Castles just built for you every-where!
There is seldom an hour
When some wish does not flower,
Some wish that is born for your

They may never come true,
But my wishes for you Would make each hour glad if they could!

BLIND MUSICIANS' CONCERT

Sir,—May I be privileged to use this valuable space to make an appeal to the generous public of the city of Victoria to make every effort possible to patronize the blind musicians' concert, which will be held at the Empress Hotel ballroom on Friday, April 25, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club?

There are twelve or thirteen musicians in the group who are sightless and very much interested in music, and they have formed themselves into a musical club and have a tutor to teach them. They have given two concerts in Vancouver and one in New Westminster on different occasions, and everyone in the audience applauded and appreciated their musical ability.

The public would be interested to know that when they first started to learn music they learned it from Braille copies, then memorized it, and now they are able to go before any audience, no matter how great. On my visit to Vancouver recently, I discussed the question with the leader as to how he could lead them when they could not see the baton? He answered that he led them with

The citizens of Victoria have very liberally subscribed towards the drive for the blind, and I would consider it a great favor if they would see what can be done by way of a musical education even to sightless people as well as by any of the professions those Canadian National Institute for the Blind is teaching them.

The funds realized from this concert, after paying their expenses, will be utilized for the advancement of their musical education and the securing of more up-to-date instruments. I sincerely hope that the balance will be full to the utmost capacity so as to encourage the sightless people to continue their musical education.

Those students who do not secure an adequate percentage in certain subjects, but have made a total large enough to insure their passing in general lists, will be given the opportunity to write off their credits in supplemental examinations set by the Department of Education a short time before the opening of the Fall term.

Over 200 Students of Local Institution Enter Upon Five Months' Vacation—Results of Tests

Over 200 students of Victoria College completed their examinations yesterday afternoon, and entered upon their five months' vacation. The collegians gathered last night, and held their final rally of the term now concluding.

Professors of the college will be busy for the next two weeks marking the papers the students have written and will then turn the results over to the Senate of the University of British Columbia for ratification.

The senate of the university, it is expected, will meet on Tuesday, May 6, to consider the list of students for scholarship and bursary winners will be made known along with the successful candidates.

DEATH HALTED COLONIZATION SCHEME IN B.C.

Mr. J. J. Fuhr Proposed to Introduce Scandinavian Settlement to This Province

(Canadian Press)

DULUTH, Minn., April 23.—The death last February of a Duluth, Minnesota, newspaper publisher, who was about to close negotiations with the British Columbia Government whereby one million acres of Government-owned land would be placed at his disposal for colonization by Scandinavian residents of the United States and Canada, has temporarily halted the proposal, it has been reported here.

AMBITIOUS PLAN IS HELD UP

There remains, however, the possibility that the project will be carried out, although the British Columbia Cabinet's attitude is uncertain since the death of Mr. J. J. Fuhr, publisher of five Norwegian and Danish newspapers. Mr. Fuhr died suddenly at Winnipeg, February 20, while on his way to Victoria to close the transaction.

NOW IN ABEYANCE

Details of the negotiations have not been made public and it is said to have been the intention of parties involved that no announcement would be made until the deal had been fully consummated.

REASON FOR INTEREST

Fuhr's wide acquaintance with Scandinavian people of the United States and Canada was the principal reason for his being selected to take charge of proposed colonization. It has been pointed out, was to be in effect ten years, with various stipulations as to cost of land to be paid to the Government. Mr. Fuhr also was to finance industrial plants so as to insure employment during "slack periods."

ROME, April 23.—America's first saint, who include eight French missionaries tortured to death by Indians, will be canonized on Sunday, June 29, it was decided in a public consistory held today. As this date coincides with the feast of St. Peter, the cupola of St. Peter's will be illuminated, and the ceremony will take on particular significance.

Obituary

HODGKINSON—The death occurred on Tuesday at St. Joseph's Hospital of Susanah Hodgkinson, aged forty-nine years, a native of England and a resident of Victoria for eighteen years. She is survived by her mother at the family residence, 1213 North Park Street; one brother, Harry North, residing in Los Angeles, and two sisters, Mrs. Rose, of Brandon, Man., and Mrs. Anderson, of Moose Jaw, Sask. The body is resting at the Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home pending funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

EARL—The funeral of Mrs. Rebecca Elizabeth Earl was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30, from the Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home. There was a large attendance of sympathizing friends, and the floral offerings were very beautiful, among them being a blanket of tulips and roses completely covering the casket. The hymns "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and "Perfect Peace" were sung at the service. The following were pallbearers: Messrs. George Earl, Harold Earl, H. H. Lynn, Leonard Earl, George Faulkner, and Richard Hodgkinson. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

CARRUTHERS—The death occurred Tuesday evening, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of James Carruthers, aged sixty-one years. Born in Ayrshire, Scotland, he was a veteran of the Great War, going overseas with the 29th Battalion, C.E.F. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Thomson & Fetterly Funeral Home, and the remains will be laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

KIRBY—The death occurred Tuesday evening, at 466 Constance Avenue, Esquimalt, of Richmond Kirby, aged sixty-three years, a native of Ottawa. He is survived by his widow and one son, Capt. Halder S. Kirby, of 466 Constance Avenue; three daughters in Ottawa and one daughter in Montreal. The remains will be forwarded this afternoon by the Sands Funeral Co. to Ottawa for interment.

PEACEY—The funeral of Alfred Henry Peacey, who passed away in this city on Monday, will be held this afternoon, the cortege proceeding from the S. J. Curry & Co. Funeral Home to St. Michael's Church, Saanich, where service will be conducted at 3 o'clock. Rev. Canon H. W. G. Stocken will officiate and interment will be made in the churchyard cemetery.

BRENNER—The funeral of Edward Wallace Brenner, place from Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. A. J. Vincent officiated in the presence of many friends. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." A large number of beautiful floral offerings were received, and placed on the casket and hearse. The pallbearers were Messrs. H. P. Warner, A. G. Murry, H. P. Baldock and Reg. Colbert. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

DONALDSON—The remains of Mrs. Amanda Donaldson were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon, the funeral taking place from Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. S. Lundie officiated. The hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." A large gathering of friends attended, and numerous beautiful floral offerings were received and placed on the casket and hearse. The pallbearers were Messrs. C. N. Cameron, F. Widdowson, H. S. Thorne, J. Harris, W. Milligan and A. Wicker.

Humorous reminiscences of an auctioneer's life as presented by Mr. A. McCloy will be one of the most interesting features of the supper to be held in the North Saanich Service Club rooms next Wednesday, April 30, commencing at 8 p.m.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Rev. G. C. P. Pringle, who will be the early days of the Klondike, and veteran of the Great War, who will recount to the audience "Yarns of the Klondike Sound."

RED CROSS NURSE MUCH IN DEMAND

Miss A. W. Roberts Writes From Lonely Outpost North of Peace River

Miss Roberts, the Red Cross nurse sent to Grand Haven, north of the Peace River in the block that has been handed over to the province by the Dominion Government, has written to the British Columbia division commissioner, Mr. J. G. Corry, a letter which intimates something of the urgent need of her services in this back block of the North:

"The journey as far as Hythe was uneventful. When the train arrived, instead of four cars there was only one, and between Peace Coupe and Hythe being very bad, and cars breaking down all round.

"I left Hythe at 2:30 p.m. for Peace River. We had two breakdowns and arrived at 6:30. "While at Peace Coupe, I visited the Red Cross hospital there. And at 10 a.m. left for the hotel to get a car for Peace River. Provincial Constable Devin was also going in, and the three of us started at 1:30 p.m. knowing that the roads were in very bad shape. Had the driver not been so skillful, I am sure we would never have arrived. We had about a dozen stops, a broken wheel, puncture and sticking in the mud. It took us five hours to get to Peace River.

"When we arrived the ferry was not working, so crossed in paddle boats. Large blocks of ice on all sides. Some sheet ice to break through. "I stayed with Miss Burley at Fort St. John and went on next morning to Grand Haven. Mr. MacLean, president of the Red Cross Society, met me and am staying with them until the nursing station is furnished.

"My services were in demand when I arrived at the river. A boy had been shot in both legs and was on his way to the hospital, the bullet being still in his leg. When I arrived on the other side of the river, a man was there with badly frost-bitten feet, and he came each day to have them dressed since.

"The first night at Grand Haven I went by team with Mr. MacLean to see a baby that was sick at Charley Lake, four and a half miles from here.

"Each day I have had someone come for treatment of some kind. "I like the house very much, and when it is all straight it will be most comfortable. I have been able to get all my supplies here at a little more than Edmonton prices with no freight to pay.

"I have already had gifts of Hudson's Bay blankets and cups and saucers and feel sure we will have the co-operation of all the people around here.

"The roads being very bad, the freighted goods will be very much delayed.

(Signed) "A. M. ROBERTS."

Mr. Corry Wood has also received a brief letter from the president of the Grand Haven branch of the Red Cross.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Elects Officers at Adjourned Annual Meeting

AIRPLANE LANDING UNDER CRITICISM

The Junior Chamber of Commerce elected officers for the ensuing year at its adjourned meeting, which took place last night in the committee room of the chamber, with Mr. Walter Miles, president in the chair.

Mr. Clarence Ganner was elected president for the year 1930, with Mr. H. S. Graves as vice-president. Other members chosen for the executive committee were: Messrs. G. Beck, H. Lethaby, W. S. Oliver, W. T. Stralich, J. Baxter, E. J. Browning, H. Crawford, F. Tummins, Don P. Cameron and P. E. George.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Speaking of the efforts made by the Junior Chamber in the promotion of Clean-Up Week, Mr. Miles said that most of the retail merchants in the city had co-operated in this movement.

"At the same time," he remarked, "we would not suffer if we had a harbor commission such as is in force in Vancouver and other ports of British Columbia."

The speaker went on to point out what he described as "the filthy conditions under which we ask our airplane visitors to land." There was a great deal of room for improvement in this connection, said Mr. Miles; and it was no wonder that visitors from the United States were disgusted with disreputable facilities of Victoria.

Giving Dramatogue in Vancouver Tomorrow

Count and Countess Jean de Suzannet, Mrs. Cudemore and Major Bullock-Webster left on the night boat last night for Vancouver, where they will take part in the dramatogue arranged by the B.C. Dramatic School, to be given at the Hotel Vancouver tomorrow. The final rehearsal is being held today, and no effort has been spared to bring the reading up to the very high standards and more intricate tumbling, as well as handstands and walkovers, are counted upon to be among the outstanding features. The apparatus work of the senior leaders' corps will be watched with particular interest as their work is well known to the public. Ballroom nazies by the juniors and preps, and scores of other colorful acts are on the programme.

Tickets for the event can be purchased at the Y.M.C.A. and all those wishing to procure them are asked to obtain them as soon as possible.

Owing to the success of the last reading given at the Sunset Club, the B.C. Dramatic School has been invited to arrange a dramatogue at the Olympic Hotel, Seattle, in the near future.

Your Teeth aren't Really Clean if you only Polish the Surfaces

HALF-CLEAN teeth invite decay. Why not have the extra protection of Colgate's, whose penetrating foam enters and cleanses the tiny pits and fissures where decay may start?

Some toothpastes merely perform the single duty of polishing the outer surfaces of the teeth.

Colgate's does that, of course . . . and something else besides! When brushed, it breaks into a sparkling, bubbling foam which has a truly remarkable property. This active foam penetrates into the tiny pits and fissures of the teeth and gums, softening the impurities which become lodged in these hard-to-reach places and washing them away in a surging antiseptic bath.

Thus Colgate's cleanses your teeth double protection against the impurities which cause decay. Scientific tests prove that Colgate's has the highest penetrating power of any leading dentifrices . . . hence, Colgate's ability to clean teeth best.

Superiority and economy have made Colgate's Ribbon Dental Cream the world's favorite dentifrice—used by more people, recommended by more dentists.

WARNING! Don't attempt to "doctor" your mouth with a dentifrice. A toothpaste cannot possibly cure pyorrhea, correct acid mouth, firm the gums. Its one and only function is to clean. Self medication is always dangerous . . . if you have any fears for the health of your teeth or gums, see your dentist at once!

SEQUEL LECTURE WILL BE GIVEN

Mr. C. E. Quainton Will Speak Friday on Topic: "Can We Save Civilization?"

"Can We Save Civilization?" is the subject of a public lecture to be delivered in Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock by Mr. C. E. Quainton, B.A., assistant professor of history at the University of Washington. The lecture is a sequel to one given by the same speaker several months ago on the subject "Are We Civilized?"

Competent observers agree that Western civilization has come once more to a parting of the ways. There is the menace of Bolshevism; great economic changes are taking place, affecting men and women in many lands; the possibility of future war has by no means been wholly removed; and a divided Christendom is unable to give the leadership that otherwise might be possible.

Thoughtful men and women are wondering whether Western civilization will go the way of other great civilizations in the past, and a new world arise on its ruins. The lecturer will deal with problems like these in answering his question, "Can We Save Civilization?"

The Dean of Columbia will take the chair promptly at 8 o'clock on Friday. Admission to the lecture will be free to all. A collection will be received on behalf of the funds of the Cathedral Women's Guild, under whose auspices the lecturer will speak.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

SOUTH SAANICH
The South Saanich Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting in the rooms, Temperance Hall, on Thursday evening, Mrs. H. Lawrie presided and the minutes and correspondence were read by Mrs. C. L. Styan. Among the latter were letters of thanks, from the Queen Alexandra Solarium for sewing done, and from Mrs. P. Mitchell for flowers sent during illness. A letter from the Salvation Army, asking permission to come out and explain their social service work, was left over until after the busy season in the Fall. The quarterly report of the Travelers' Aid Society of the V.W.C.A. was read, disclosing much interesting information, and the usual donation was sent to help carry on this work. A donation was also sent to assist with the T.B. Veterans' tag day. It is hoped to get a demonstration on pottery making for the next meeting. At the close of the business meeting the members adjourned to the main hall, where they joined the Farmers' Institute in listening to Mr. John Hutchinson talk on gardening. At the close of the meeting, Mrs. C. L. Styan and Misses M. Mitchell, N. Styan and V. McNally.

The first all-Spanish talking picture was shown recently in Madrid.

Conservative Association Members Present Gifts to Bride-to-Be

THE WOMEN'S Conservative Association last evening presented Miss Carolyn Toimie with a beautiful water-color, the work of Mrs. Drummond Davis, well-known local artist. The presentation was made by Mrs. A. J. Gillis, president of the association, who in a few words expressed the good wishes of the association to Miss Toimie for her future happiness. Following the acceptance of the picture, Miss Toimie received from the central executive of the association a very handsome Sheffield plate coat-tray and a pair of silver candlesticks. Mr. R. A. Wootton made the presentation, and Miss Toimie replied very charmingly. The tray bore the following inscription: "Presented to Miss Carolyn Toimie by the Victoria Conservative Association on the occasion of her marriage to John St. Clair Harvey, April 26, 1930." The early part of the evening was devoted to cards, there being forty tables of bridge and three of five hundred. Supper was served from attractively decorated tables, and the general convener, Mrs. W. C. Moreby, was assisted by the following members: Mesdames Tubman, Higgins, Moffatt, Wootton, Jones and S. R. Roberts. Miss Toimie was accompanied by Mrs. Toimie and a party of friends.

How to Be Stylishly Stout

Quaint Advertisements Show That All Sizes and Weights Are Considered by Fashion Experts

The following is from The Times (London):

Once upon a time there was a young bachelor (now unknown to fame) who told the manservant at his chambers that he was going to be married. The man looked at him gravely, but not unkindly. Then he said: "I hope the lady is stock size, sir." Only that—a skimpy measure in words; but what stock size in forms of congratulation could have conveyed so much genuine good will to one who was not then immoderately well off? Those were the days when ready-made dress knew at most three stock sizes. The unseemly and awful powers which rule the clothes of women had settled that every woman ought to be one of three shapes. If she was not, it was her own fault and she must pay for being singular. It was a draconian rule. When Zeusis wanted perfection he was allowed five daniels from whom to study it. The costumers demanded their sort of perfection of every woman. Small, medium, or "outsized," she must still be cut to their pattern, cast in their mould.

All that is changing rapidly. The powers have looked down in condescension on the needs of mundane dwellers; and the mediocrities, the salesmen, have wrung from them many gracious concessions to human weakness. It has been a delicate affair, because, though the powers were strict, their decrees were always carried out without offending against personal pride. Madam never objects to being told that her hands or her feet are really so small that only a girl's size can fit them; but when Madam has to be told that she is too short for any grown-up woman's dress, or that she is too fat for even outsize (and such truths as these had somehow to be conveyed in the old days), there is need for extreme caution. "Hush, my dear, nobody's fat or old at Ba-ath," said Mr. Angelo Cyrus Bantam when Mr. Pickwick had applied those epithets to the Dowager Lady Snaphanaph. Nobody's fat in a dressmaker's. But salesmanship has been equal to the task.

THE OUTSIZES
We have before us on one sheet an eleven of fashion plates—every one different from the others, but as smart-looking as a team as ever took the field or the carpet. And with what dexterity, what delicacy is the naming done! "Size C. When Madam is a petite"—the courtly little touch of French—it is like whispering "mignonne," "petit chou." In her shell-like ear—she cannot possibly be offended at being thus informed that she is almost absurdly tiny. Take the other extreme: "Size L. Just that extra length needed by many"—and the word "kawk" may henceforth perish from our speech. "Size D. For the very chic," and "Size E. The ideal figure of today"—charming new terms for what we suspect to be old stock sizes, small and medium, now threatened with some little measure of commonplaceness compared with the new and distinctive stock sizes. But "outsizes" was always the greatest difficulty, and here the art of salesmanship has won its finest new triumphs. It is ready for any Dowager Lady Snaphanaph; it would be ready for the Princess Huncamunca.

Roquefort Cheese Makes Meals Much More Appetizing

Perhaps you have never realized the increasing number of people who like Roquefort cheese. With crackers and coffee, with fruit, in a dressing for green salads, as a filling for stuffed celery, Roquefort cheese has captivated the palates of cheese lovers. There are few things that give a meal a more sophisticated touch than the skillful use of Roquefort in such dishes as these:

ROQUEFORT ENDIVE HEARTS
1-4 lb. Roquefort cheese.
1 cake cream cheese.
2 tablespoonsful of sweet butter.
Fill crisp endive stalks with ingredients and season with paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Fill crisp endive stalks with ingredients and serve with French dressing. Garnish with parsley.

PEAR SAVARIN
6 pears, raw (peeled).
6 teaspoonfuls Roquefort cheese.
6 tablespoonfuls cream cheese.

TODAY'S RECIPE

WALNUT and Prune Salad
—Wash and soak overnight one-half pound prunes, stew till tender, but not broken, in a very little water, but no sugar. When cold, carefully remove the stones. Mix some chopped walnuts with a little mayonnaise, and fill the prunes with the mixture. Place carefully in a salad bowl with small leaves of lettuce, the shredded heart of celery, and pour more mayonnaise dressing over all. Only the very largest and finest prunes can be used for this purpose.

Peel and core pears—fill up centre with Roquefort cheese, softened with a little butter.
Dilute cream cheese with heavy cream.
Place pear on leaf of lettuce.

Pour cream cheese over it and sprinkle with paprika. Serve very cold.

ROQUEFORT CHEESE SURPRISE
Roquefort cheese.
Canned crabapples.
Currant jelly.

Remove core and seeds from apple. Fill cavity with creamed Roquefort cheese and glaze with softened currant jelly. Set in colored paper bon bon cup and serve with steak, roast or fowl.

STUFFED TOMATO SALAD
1-4 lb. Roquefort cheese.
2 cakes cream cheese.

6 tablespoonfuls celery, minced.
24 almonds.
12 teaspoonfuls mayonnaise.
1-2 lemon, juice of.
6 tomatoes.

Mix Roquefort and cream cheese together thoroughly, adding lemon juice. Peel and remove centres of tomatoes and stuff three-quarters full with cheese. Add celery to mayonnaise and stuff remaining portion of tomatoes, allowing some of celery to garnish top. Garnish each portion with four almonds and serve on crisp lettuce.

The FLOW of Chemical Knowledge

THE chemical knowledge gained by Canadian Industries Limited flows through its nine Divisions, giving strength to all. Each one profits by the results of chemical research and develops its varied products from these chemical discoveries.

Products bearing the C.I.L. trade-mark are closely related through the basic materials used in their manufacture. Thus the well-known waterproof shot shells of the Ammunition Division owe their existence to discoveries which resulted in the perfection of Duco by the Paint Division. A similar relationship exists among them all.

The skilled hands of the chemist infuse life into the many products and materials which you buy under the now famous C.I.L. trade-mark. This trade-mark stands for Quality, Service and Fair Price.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

Going into a combine to put over late details of the mode is the latest style made by silk and wool. Black and white have followed suit. Perhaps some courtiers had difficulty in choosing between the softer woven wools and the fascinating new silk prints, so decided to use both. At any rate it is a fashion enterprise that is thriving as many of the new ensembles are of the two materials.

The original smartness of the merger is illustrated in the model sketched above, which is of black wool crepe and black and white printed silk dress. The manner in which the coat front is cut with a wide opening at front is characteristic on such models designed for street wear. The soft collar draped on the outside of the coat's plain neckline and the wide panel with inserted fullness gives a decorative effect to the tailored costume.

Dining-Room Picnics

Into the modern mode of living has come electric table service. No longer is meal-time conversation interrupted with trips to the kitchen for hot foods, for tea or coffee.

Now Electricity—swift, silent, efficient—prepares the meal right at the table. The electric switch has replaced the cooking spoon.

Snap!—and the electric toaster browns the bread. Snap!—and the coffee perks in the percolator. Snap!—and a delicious odor of cooking waffles assails the air.

Breakfasts and light luncheons have become dining-room picnics. Electricity is the new maid. Make full use of her services.

Hudson's Bay Practically Clinch Wednesday Football League Title

Hold Navy to Draw In Fast Battle at The Athletic Park

Score Is Two-All—Markers Are Netted in First Half—Hudson's Bay Will Play Saanich United on Wednesday Next

Holding the league-leading Navy to a two-all score at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon, Hudson's Bay, last year's midweek soccer champions and present holders of the Pendray Cup, practically clinched their second straight championship. The sailors completed their scheduled fixtures with yesterday's match and have at this time a two-point lead over the departmental store representatives. However, to offset this difference in points, the Hudson's Bay have two postponed matches, one each with Batchelor's Food Stores and Saanich United. The latter game will be played next week, while it is expected that the Hudson's Bay will play Saanich United and the defaulted points from Batchelor's Food Stores would mean that the Hudson's Bay will be crowned midweek soccer champions for the 1929-30 season.

THE STANDINGS

TEAM	W	L	D	P	A	Pts
Hudson's Bay	7	1	3	2	16	16
Saanich United	7	1	3	2	16	16
Batchelor's Food	0	10	1	1	12	1

SHIRMPION STARS

Percy Shrimpton, veteran net minder, has stopped a lot of shots in his long career on the soccer field and literally broken the hearts of hundreds of players. Yesterday at the Royal Athletic Park, when his teammates were battling the Navy in an important midweek soccer league fixture, it was the same Shrimpton who spent disaster for the sailors, league leaders, and as a consequence the Navy were able to hold the sailors to a two-all score. The result practically ruined the Navy's chances of lifting the Pendray Cup, emblematic of the championship, and placed the Hudson's Bay in an enviable position.

The sailors, strengthened by the return of Alex Whyte, Jimmy Cozer and Robinson, were somewhat disappointing. Capable of retaining first throughout the season minus this trio of stars, the Navy was figured strong enough to humble the Hudson's Bay. Figuring may be an interesting pastime, but it was all wrong yesterday.

FIRST SCORES

Hudson's Bay were the first to score when Fish headed the leather home after Twaites, Navy goalie, had saved from Obee and Newell. This marker came in the first fifteen minutes of play.

The second goal of the match and the first for the sailors was netted five minutes later with Spriddell being responsible. When the close proximity of the Navy's goal Tommy Watt slipped the ball to his colleague and Spriddell, with a first time shot, beat Shrimpton all of the way.

For the next twenty minutes the score was deadlocked, with play fairly evenly divided. "Dutchy" Davis, veteran left winger, for the Hudson's Bay, broke this tie when he scored with a bullet drive outside the penalty area ten minutes from halftime. Twaites made a good effort to save the shot but the speed of the ball was too much for him.

Time was fleeing rapidly and the rest interval was only seconds away when the Navy equalized. Jimmy Cozer, speedy wing, sent a scorching hot drive against Walker's face and it rebounded into the net. The force of the impact floored Walker as cold as a January day.

GOLF

AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

Can a player improve his game by practice off the golf course?

Answered by WILLIE MACFARLANE

A player can by all means improve his game with practice off the course, providing, however, he understands what is in all about. To practice and not understand your own swing does not do very much good. If you understand thoroughly just what your swing should be then by all means practice all you can. The back yard, front lawn or any place will do. It is not necessary to be swinging at golf balls all the time. Some other object is a lot better than a golf ball when you are trying to improve your swing. Practice swinging at daisies, dandelions, etc. until you have confidence enough in yourself to hit anything you want at.

any frost. However, knocks in soccer are common; even the referee comes in for some. The sounding of the halftime whistle was the next thing of interest and the teams left the field with the score two-all.

SCORELESS HALF

The second half saw the teams play through forty-five minutes without any additional scoring. Play in this stanza favored the Hudson's Bay, but the way their forwards fumbled their plays at crucial times cost them the match. Never disheartened, the Navy fought all of the way and in the dying stages only the sensational work of Percy Shrimpton saved the colors of the departmental store from a defeat. It was during this last spirited attack that Shrimpton came out of his goal to pick the leather off Tom Watt's toe with the same uncanny way a child lifts the cookies from the cupboard.

Still battling for the goal that would have kept them in the fight for the Pendray Cup, Tom Watt rushed Shrimpton when the latter was in possession of the ball. The elusive Shrimpton sidestepped Watt, who a second later brought him to the ground, and Walker scored. However, Referee Hewison took exception to the way Watt brought Shrimpton down, and gave a foul against him. The final whistle sounded soon after. Hewison refereed and the teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton; Tupman and Armstrong; Cull, Woodcock and Oakman; Jewell, Obee, Fish, Small and Davis.

Navy—Twaites; E. Plummer and Whyte; E. Plummer, Robinson and Walters; Fudis, Watt, Spriddell, Walker and Cozer.

ALBIE DAVIES TO MEET KNOTT

Victoria Junior Lightweight Is On Townsend-Gordon Card at Vancouver Monday Night

VANCOUVER, April 23.—Jack Allen has lined up an exceptionally strong array of bouts supporting the ten-round battle between Billy Davies and Al Goetz, scheduled here for Monday, April 28.

Albie Davies, Victoria lightweight, who beat Johnny Hawkes in a ten-round bout in Victoria last week and headlined a card here recently, has been matched to meet Jackie Knott in one of the four-rounders on the card.

Knott has a draw with Hector McDonald to his credit, and is a rough and rugged battler.

Allan Poston, Vancouver's latest title star, is matched up to meet Joe Dalcan, Filipino flyweight, in the special event. Dalcan is one of Joe Westerman's stable, and has fought Harvey Holliday, Jackie Gaston and Harry Ketchell.

Joe Townsend, younger brother of Billy, gets the toughest test of his ring career in meeting Tommy Jeffers, of Tacoma, in the six-round semi-final.

Jeffers, a colored junior welterweight, has beaten Eddie Herman, Johnny Bray, Leo Roberts and numerous other fair battlers, and is rated well around Tacoma.

One other outstanding bout is to be lined up to round out the card.

Wolfville All Fussled Up Over Hoop Tussles

WOLFVILLE, N.S., April 23.—This town is basketball mad. The coming series between Acadia University and New Westminster Adanacs for the Canadian championship is the only topic of conversation about the streets. Capacity crowds will watch the two-game series tomorrow and Friday night. The total score of the two matches will decide the winner.

New Westminster is expected to arrive here tomorrow. They will be at a slight disadvantage in the first game, as they will be tired from their long train journey East.

Acadia will have a workout today. New Westminster will have a practice session before the game.

CHEVALIER MAY OPPOSE CARNERA A SECOND TIME

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight boxer, has been matched for a fight to be held in Tia Juana, Lower California, Sunday May 18, it was announced today by Harry Polio, representing businessmen of the border city. Carnera's opponent has not been selected, but it was reported that an effort would be made to secure Leon Chevalier, negro heavyweight, of San Francisco, who recently met Carnera in Oakland,

Great Britain Is Favored in Davis Cup Play

LONDON, April 23.—Great Britain tonight was generally favored to defeat Germany in their first round Davis Cup contest tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at the Queen's Club, West Kensington.

When these same two teams met in the European zone final last year at Berlin the Germans were victorious in one of the most dramatic ties in tennis history. Since that time, however, the German team has been weakened by the untimely death of Hans Moltenhauer, who was killed in an automobile accident.

PACIFIC CLUB GOLF MEET IS BILLED SUNDAY

Fifty-Two Members of Organization to Compete in Annual Spring Tourney at Oak Bay

PRESIDENT MARKS DONATES TROPHY

Fifty-two members of the Pacific Club will gather at the Victoria Golf Club where they will engage in the club's annual Spring tournament over the eighteen-hole route, medal play with full handicap allowance. As in previous years, a large and select field will leave the first tee in quest of the cup donated for the occasion by President L. Marks.

Much enthusiasm has been shown in connection with this event, as it is first of two tournaments that will be held this year, to each of which Mr. Marks has generously contributed a handsome silver cup. Members of the club who have handicaps not exceeding twenty-four are eligible to compete. The players will leave the first tee in foursomes and the regular course rules will be adopted.

Members desiring lunch service at the Oak Bay Club are advised to make arrangements with the secretary of the Pacific Club by Saturday.

PARADE MOOTED FOR BASEBALL OPENING

Colorful Procession Is Proposed to Mark Baseball Inaugural

Revival of Street Parade Which Ushered in Season in Days of Northwestern League—Dignitaries Asked to Share in Opening

A colorful pomp and ceremony which marked the opening of the season here in bygone days with the old Northwest League will be revived in the form of a parade on Saturday, May 3, the date set for the opening of the 1930 season with the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League, if plans being formulated by league officials materialize.

Premier Tolmie and members of the provincial cabinet, Mayor Anson and the civic fathers will be invited to participate in the parade planned for the official opening of the ball season here. The Jokers, last year's champions, and the Sons of Canada, opposing teams in the curtain raiser, will also take part in the ceremony.

The parade will start from the Parliament Buildings at 2 o'clock and will be routed along Government Street to Yates Street, west to Douglas Street to Pandora Avenue, turning at the intersection of Douglas and Pandora Avenue, the parade will make its way to the Royal Athletic Park by the Cook Street entrance. If possible, a band will head the parade.

With such elaborate plans being arranged for the opening of the season, it is expected that one of the largest crowds in the history of the game here in more recent years will be on hand to witness the curtain raiser.

3,500 Rayon Silk Undergarments

In One Big Special Group. Priced at 98c

We had to buy very large quantities indeed to make possible such an outstanding value—such as has never before been offered to our Victoria customers. As an illustration of the attractive values, we might say that in one of the large Eastern centres 8,000 of these same garments were sold in one day at this price. The group includes the following garments:

Slips, Tailored Rayon Bloomers, Brassiere-Top Rayon Combinations, Tailored and Contrasting Trimmed Pyjamas, Rayon Silk
Appliqued and Contrasting Trimmed Brevities, Lace-Trimmed
Slips, Lace-Trimmed Teddies.

Charming pastel shades are represented in many lines, while many garments are shown also in white, black, sand and red.
Small, medium and large sizes. All priced at 98c

DOMINION

CLUB TITLE TOURNEY IS SET, MAY 4

Date for Qualifying Round of Uplands Golf Club Championship Is Released

BOB MORRISON IS DEFENDING CHAMP

Once again Bob Morrison, brilliant young golfer, will trek over the fairways and greens of the Uplands Golf Club in defence of his club championship. The qualifying round date was released yesterday by the secretary of the club, and May 4 is the day selected for club members who have handicaps of less than eighteen to start from the first tee in quest of the crown that has adorned the brow of Morrison for the past two years.

Members intending to enter the tourney are requested to file their names with the secretary on Friday, May 2, not later than 4 p.m. With the "B" class club tournament now under progress the field is expected to be large and select.

When the array of first stringers leaves the first tee, Morrison will be a hot favorite to repeat his victories of 1928 and 1929. The Uplands champ at present is playing the game of his career, and his showing in the recent British Columbia amateur meet on the Mainland and his win in the city championship last year, only serve to strengthen the odds on him.

Harold Brynjolfsson, semi-finalist in the provincial tourney last year at Colwood, and runner-up to Morrison for the club honors, will be a strong contender. Brynjolfsson has been knocking at the door of golf championships for the past few years, and if he comes through the pack to victory it will be no surprise to the public.

Besides these two top-notchers

THE SPORTLIGHT BY GRANTLAND RICE

(Copyright, 1930, The North American Newspaper Alliance)

CARNERA'S MOTHER GOOSE

Sing a song of socks, pockets full of dough:
Four and thirteen knockouts pulled in a dizzy row.
But when the last one happened, the boys began to sob,
"Isn't this a pretty ditty to set before the mob?"

He was in the counting house, counting out his money. Seven other managers were eating bread and honey. The mammoth stood there waiting for the diving act to close. When along came a blackbird and knocked him on the nose.

BOOTING A MILLION
Knowing his opponents were all pushovers, Carnera was on his way to a million until the fatal towel fell at Chevalier's feet in a San Francisco ring. That towel may be the most costly piece of tapestry ever known.

About the only chance the mammoth now has is to proclaim his own innocence and rig himself out with a new set of managers who are as towel throwers at heart. Either that or he may have to apply for a job as understudy to the sea elephant in the circus and it is said one has to take several weeks to learn the sea elephant's plaintive call.

Just how the bunch are going to get Carnera out of his present jam remains to be seen. But the chances are some way will be found to lift his bulk out of the sticky goo and scrape away the mud.

A WORRIED MANAGER
The managers of Carnera may be a trifle worried by now and the same applies to the managers of trailing ball clubs. But when it comes to real managerial worry we hereby refer you to Manager Ed Kennedy, well known in the swimming circles of Columbia University.

What is Mr. Kennedy managing? Nothing but the twenty-three women golfers who sailed on the Berenaria Tuesday night and are now upon the high seas on their way to England. That is practically everything Mr. Kennedy has to manage.

Outside of this slight detail he will have almost nothing to do. I saw him just before the squad sailed and he looked as happy and as cheerful as a fellow starting for the electric chair. For any male to attempt to manage twenty-three women is something. We'll let you figure out just what the combination means. We promised to have a nice new sanatorium ready for him on his arrival in June, back home again.

Still, there is a chance for glory. With a bunch headed by Glenn Collett, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, Manager Kennedy ought to bring back the British cup for the first time in golf history. He is not only managing the largest team of women that ever sailed, but also the strongest, where at least four and possibly five, including Edith Quier, have chance to smash the old hoodoo when the battle fires flame at Formby, a wind-swept, seaside links near Liverpool.

Edward F. Hutton the wealthy sportsman who went in for boxing a year or two ago as the owner of several contracts, and who is now trying his complete and permanent retirement from any connection with the art of pugilism.

"I went into boxing," says Mr. Hutton, "purely as a sporting proposition with no idea of making a dollar from the game. On the contrary I knew it would cost me something, but I had always liked the game and I felt that it would be an interesting experiment to have a manager and trainer such as Walter Monahan develop a champion in some class. But I must admit that so far I haven't been able to discover the sporting side. And the ridicule to which I was subjected in several papers was something I had never looked for. So I have decided to turn over all the contracts for fighters I once owned to Walter Monahan."

While Mr. Hutton owned the services of a number of boxers, Roy Wallace the Indianapolis lightweight was his main star and heavyweight was his main star and Wallace has a good chance to reach the top. He is fast; he can take it, and above all he can punch.

Unless a few carloads of racketeering are removed from boxing, there will be still more retirements in the near future.

SPEAKING OF LEGS
They have been saying that Dempsey's legs have given out at thirty-five. Also that ball players around thirty-six and thirty-seven are reaching the rickety stage in so far as leg work is concerned. At which point a young fellow by the name of Clarence de Mar, aged forty-two, wins his seventh marathon. The marathon distance is out behind twenty-six miles, and any pair of legs that can lug the human body more than twenty-six miles at a gallop must be in pretty fair shape. De Mar has proved at least that a man beyond forty can still stand on his legs for an hour or two without caving in. It is largely a matter of usage. It would be interesting to see some of our twenty-five-year-old fighters or ball players take a casual shot at the marathon distance some afternoon. Most of them would have to start about dawn in order to finish before night.

The same goes for almost any other sport. Ty Cobb had lost a lot of the spring in his legs when he retired at the age of forty-three, but he can still hunt twelve hours a day, week in and week out, without bogging down.

De Mar's marathon record is one of the finest turns in sport. Any man who can keep himself in condition to win seven marathons knows how to take care of himself. To win one at the age of forty-two is an achievement that no one in sport will beat this year no matter what championship he wins. One feature of marathon running is that most of the champions have been between thirty and forty. Few in their twenties have the stamina to go this route and few in their thirties have the long heart-wrecking hikes where condition and fortitude mean more than speed.

9:55—T. Stewart and Williams.
10:00—Boyd and Livingstone.
10:05—Gibson and Braidwood.

With the Wrestlers
PORTLAND, Ore., April 23.—Dr. Karl Sarpolis, grappling physician of Cleveland, and Pat McGill, Vancouver, wrestled to a draw in the principal bout of the mat card here tonight. The match was held under the Australian round system.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., April 23.—Gus Sonnenberg took two falls from Stanley Stalak in the main wrestling bout here tonight.

VARSITY RUGGERS TO OPEN EASTERN
TOUR AT TORONTO
TORONTO, April 23.—According to a telegram received from W. Locke, captain of the University of British Columbia English Rugby team, a tour of the Dominion is to be made commencing in a week's time. The first game of the tour is scheduled to be played in Toronto on May 3, followed by a meeting with an all-star team in Hamilton on May 7. Montreal is next on the schedule, and then back to Toronto for another game on May 14, finishing the tour with a game in Winnipeg May 17.

Civic receptions are planned for the touring team in Toronto and Montreal.

STEEPLECHASE COURSE SET FOR ARLINGTON PARK
CHICAGO, April 23.—A steeplechase course, dangerous and difficult as the famous old Aintree hurdling strip at Liverpool will be constructed at Arlington Park before the Summer turf season opens there July 1.

Mr. H. I. Pels, who built the steeplechase at Belmont Park, N.Y., will direct the construction of the Arlington strip, over which $30,000 in purses and stakes will be decided this Summer.

CARS FOR RAIL OR ROAD
Motor coaches which may be run on rails or on roads at will are being tested by a leading railway in England. The coaches will have pneumatic tires for running on the road, and, in addition, steel-shod rims with flanges for rail travel. Passengers could embark at a central point in a city, be run to a railway, and thence reach their destination at high speed.

Three Umpires Are Named for 1930 Ball Term
THREE umpires were named by the board of governors of the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League to act for the 1930 season, following a meeting yesterday afternoon. "Albie" McGregor and "Cotton" Brynjolfsson, who functioned last year, will be back on the job, while Manny Simpson, who last season played shortstop with the Sidney club, is the new addition. Simpson has been playing the game for a number of years and should be capable of performing the duties of an umpire.

CARNERA'S MOTHER GOOSE

Sing a song of socks, pockets full of dough:
Four and thirteen knockouts pulled in a dizzy row.
But when the last one happened, the boys began to sob,
"Isn't this a pretty ditty to set before the mob?"

He was in the counting house, counting out his money. Seven other managers were eating bread and honey. The mammoth stood there waiting for the diving act to close. When along came a blackbird and knocked him on the nose.

BOOTING A MILLION
Knowing his opponents were all pushovers, Carnera was on his way to a million until the fatal towel fell at Chevalier's feet in a San Francisco ring. That towel may be the most costly piece of tapestry ever known.

About the only chance the mammoth now has is to proclaim his own innocence and rig himself out with a new set of managers who are as towel throwers at heart. Either that or he may have to apply for a job as understudy to the sea elephant in the circus and it is said one has to take several weeks to learn the sea elephant's plaintive call.

Just how the bunch are going to get Carnera out of his present jam remains to be seen. But the chances are some way will be found to lift his bulk out of the sticky goo and scrape away the mud.

A WORRIED MANAGER
The managers of Carnera may be a trifle worried by now and the same applies to the managers of trailing ball clubs. But when it comes to real managerial worry we hereby refer you to Manager Ed Kennedy, well known in the swimming circles of Columbia University.

What is Mr. Kennedy managing? Nothing but the twenty-three women golfers who sailed on the Berenaria Tuesday night and are now upon the high seas on their way to England. That is practically everything Mr. Kennedy has to manage.

Outside of this slight detail he will have almost nothing to do. I saw him just before the squad sailed and he looked as happy and as cheerful as a fellow starting for the electric chair. For any male to attempt to manage twenty-three women is something. We'll let you figure out just what the combination means. We promised to have a nice new sanatorium ready for him on his arrival in June, back home again.

Still, there is a chance for glory. With a bunch headed by Glenn Collett, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, Manager Kennedy ought to bring back the British cup for the first time in golf history. He is not only managing the largest team of women that ever sailed, but also the strongest, where at least four and possibly five, including Edith Quier, have chance to smash the old hoodoo when the battle fires flame at Formby, a wind-swept, seaside links near Liverpool.

Carnera's Visit To Vancouver Is Rather Doubtful

PORTLAND, Ore., April 23.—Primo Carnera's board of managers tonight announced that the Italian heavyweight would fight here again next Tuesday night. They said Carnera's opponent has not yet been selected, but that promoters are endeavoring to sign Leon Chevalier, Oakland Negro, who lost to the Italian at Oakland recently via the technical knockout route in the sixth round of the bout.

Earlier today it was announced that Carnera would fight here again within three weeks. During the interval it was said that he probably would appear in exhibition bouts in Seattle and Vancouver, B.C. In view of later developments, however, Carnera's managers said they might cancel the Vancouver trip, but probably would visit Seattle.

Carnera knocked out Sam Baker, Los Angeles negro heavyweight, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round main event here Tuesday night.

stunts by "Rocky" Brooks, and musical numbers, will round out the programme.

The presentation of the Jokers Challenge Cup to the Huskies, Fifth Bowling League champions, and individual trophies to members of the team, will be made. Other cups to be presented will be the high average cup to Art Harness, veteran pin speller and a member of the Jokers; high aggregate trophy to Les Fox, of the Times, and high individual trophy to Art Porter, another member of the Jokers.

Tickets have been moving very rapidly with indications of a good crowd on hand to ring down the curtain with the fivepin trundlers.

"Don't use 'just any soap' ... Use Palmolive"

All my clients are asked to use no soap except Palmolive. The fine palm and olive oils of which it is made give the skin deep thorough cleansing."

Niraus Madrid

In the Madrid salon of Niraus, this expert himself supervises the important treatments. Niraus, though a Frenchman, has worked for many years in Spain. His salon is frequented by the smartest Spanish women.

To protect skin from the abuses of weather and make-up, you should use this soap with its safe, non-irritating olive oil lather.

Unless the skin is carefully cleansed, carefully protected, there is a gradual—and dangerous—change in its texture, color, in the very way it feels. Coarse pores, blackheads, muddiness take the place of youthful freshness. That is why more than 19,800 experts, the world over, insist on the use of Palmolive Soap twice daily.

Be sure to see your beauty expert regularly. And take her advice. Use Palmolive not only for the face, but for the bath as well. Millions do. They find it the best safeguard for natural loveliness.

INSTITUTE HEARS GARDENING TALK

Mr. J. Hutchison Speaks to South Saanich Farmers' Institute

KEATING, April 23.—The South Saanich Farmers' Institute held a most interesting meeting in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening, when Mr. J. Hutchison, of Victoria, addressed the members on gardening, telling how to make attractive gardens without water, and what flowers and shrubs were best suited to the climate and different soils. Much information was gleaned and hearty thanks accorded the speaker.

Mr. W. D. Michell conducted the business session, during which time congratulations were extended to the committee in charge of the recent successful ploughing match held at Mr. J. Brooks' farm, on the great popularity of the affair.

A certified seed and grain contest is being arranged, and seed and information regarding it may be secured from the secretary, Mr. G. Spencer.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Women's Institute.

Y.P.S. MEETS

Rev. Bruce Gray Speaks to Young People's Society at Regular Meeting

KEATING, April 23.—There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of Young People's Society of the United Church, held in the church parlor on Monday evening, Miss V. McNally conducted the devotional period, with which the meeting commenced, and Miss J. Heyer occupied the chair during the business sessions. The minutes of

KEOUGH AND PIERCE CHIEF ANNOUNCERS

The Christian fellowship committee then took charge and Miss L. Deane, convener, introduced Rev. Bruce Gray, of Victoria, who addressed the gathering in an inspiring manner, his subject being "The Challenge of Youth." This was much enjoyed and hearty thanks were accorded the speaker.

Mr. C. D. Gray, president of the Young People's Council in Victoria, was present and was called upon to speak a few words.

A social period was followed by refreshments. The next meeting will be on Monday evening, May 5.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Women's Institute.

At approximately 12:15 o'clock contact will be made with the Provisional Wing, racing in from the Mather Field, and Keough will begin his description of the air.

As the battle continues, Keough and Pierce will exchange control, giving listeners first hand views of the engagements both from the ground and air. The broadcast will continue until 1 o'clock.

SAVE-THE-WHALE CAMPAIGN

Because of the great catches by Norwegian whalers in the Ross Sea this season, New Zealand has a save-the-whale campaign. It is feared there that the whale may become extinct in southern latitudes. Norwegian companies pay a small royalty to the New Zealand Government for the right to kill whales, and the increasing number of whalers is causing the apprehension. The attitude of some Norwegian whalers, that the whales will last out their lifetime and they won't worry after that, is causing resentment.
